THE NUTCRACKER TO BE PRESENTED SUNDAY, DEC. 2 AT BINGHAM AUDITORIUM

The Ballet Teen Troup, under the direction of Susan Farrar, will be presenting "The Nutcracker" at Bingham Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 2, at 2 o'clock. Performances will also be given in Norway the following Sunday and in Rumford on Dec. 16.

The story of the "Nutcracker" begins in the city of Nuremberg, Germany, where the governor and his wife are giving a party for their children, Klara and Franz. It is Christmas Eve and in the living room there is a beautifully lighted tree. Soon the guests start to arrive, and before long the place is humming with activity. The boys and girls dance quadrilles and polkas. This was the Christmas of 1826, more than a hundred years ago; and these were the festive dances of those times.

In the midst of all the fun, Uncle Drosselmeyer arrives. He is much loved by all the children, but because of his brusque manner, he is also slightly feared. He gives his nephews a tin soldier and his niece and godchild, Klara, a very special gift, a nutcracker, made in the shape of a handsome soldier. Klara was delighted to have a dear little nutcracker all her own; but Franz, perhaps because he was jealous, or just because he liked to torment his sister, as brothers sometimes will, kept trying to snatch it away from her. The boys all sided in, the girls all shrieked and the poor Franz's parents were embarrassed by his actions and sent him to bed! Uncle Drosselmeyer sped Klara bandage the nutcracker.

RECREATIONAL VEHICLE REGULATION COULD SHOW BIG GAS SAVING SAYS MMA OFFICIAL

A significant amount of gasoline could be conserved if Maine would temporarily regulate snowmobiles, an official of the Maine Municipal Association said last Friday.

"The state should assess its priorities in view of the energy crisis. Perhaps a decision ought to be made that snowmobiles be regulated, say to operate only on Sunday as a way of saving gasoline," said John B. Andrews, director of inter-governmental relations for the MMA.

"I am using snowmobiles merely as an example and would have the same arguments against motorboats if the crisis took place in the summer," Andrews said. "I just feel it's wrong to allow snowmobiles to operate unchecked while other sectors of the state are talking about closing schools because there's not enough gas to run the school buses."

The Maine Fish and Game Department, which issues snowmobile registration licenses, says there are no plans to ban or regulate the winter recreation vehicles during the energy crisis.

Municipalities cannot ban snowmobiles and there's some question as to whether Fish and Game would have the authority to impose such controls even if the gasoline supply reached emergency proportions.

"The legislature preempted snowmobiles from local control," said Andrews. "They cannot be banned by a community, but many communities probably would ban snowmobiles if they did have the authority."

The state's director of snowmobile registration, Lorenzo J. Gaud, said his office has already registered nearly 20,000 snowmobiles.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Fire Department will inspect chimneys for anyone who wishes to contact them. There is concern wood fires will be connected to old chimneys which are not safe.

Interest on taxes will become effective Dec. 1. It is retroactive to Oct. 1 if taxes are not paid prior to Dec. 1.

We have received the 1974 Hunting and Fishing Licenses. They are available at the Town Office.

The Town Office will close at 3 p. m. Friday, Nov. 23. It will also be closed from 11:30 to 12:30 p. m. the same day. The office help would like a long week end for Thanksgiving.

The Fire Department installed three dry hydrants for fire protection at various locations through town: two in the West Bethel area and one in East Bethel.

NEW SEWAGE TREATMENT FACILITY EXPLAINED AT C. OF C. MEETING

The Bethel Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on Thursday, Nov. 15, at the Casco Bank with six members present.

Subjects discussed included welcoming and directional signs for entrances for the town, the possibility of publishing a pamphlet on Bethel's history and points of interest, the Crescent Park School skating rink, the Winter Carnival, Christmas gifts for Senior Citizens, the Christmas lighting program, the possibility of forming committees of like businesses (downtown merchants, motel/restaurant operators, etc.) to deal with common problems, and the possibility of having new post cards of the area made and sold in manageable quantities to members for resale.

Following the business meeting, Barry Parrie of Jordan Engineering Co. in Portland gave an excellent presentation on the design and operation of the town's new Water Pollution Control Facility.

GO AHEAD P. T. A. TO MEET AT WOODSTOCK SCHOOL NOV. 27

The Go Ahead P. T. A. will hold its November meeting Tuesday, the 27th at the Woodstock School at 7:30 p. m.

There will be a presentation and discussion about the Physical Education program.

bikes, which is about 3,000 fewer than at this time last year.

During 1972, the department registered 62,920 snowmobiles at $10 each resulting in about $629,000 in revenue. Six of every $10 fee is returned to the municipality in which the license holder resides.

Andrews said that if only 50,000 snowmobiles were registered, they would consume about 200,000 gallons of gasoline a week if each machine used four gallons.

"That's 200,000 gallons per week or over 2,000,000 gallons per year. That's a lot of gasoline," Andrews said.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD HELD REGULAR MEETING AT T.R.H.S. MONDAY EVENING

A large group of teachers, and parents who have children in the S. A. D. 44 schools, was in attendance at the regular meeting of the District's board of directors held at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

There was a lengthy discussion of the teacher/parent conference method of conveying reports of student progress to the home versus the traditional "rank card". Some feeling was expressed that it would be unduly inconvenient and in some cases a hardship for parents to attend a conference with their child's teacher(s). Others expressed their opinion that the parents in the district should have been notified at a date earlier in the school year of the proposed method change, instead of first learning of it at a school's "open house" or reading of it in a newspaper. It was pointed out that the new method should give a more complete picture of a student's progress in the more individualized programs now being offered. Oftentimes the new programs do not lend themselves well to the traditional "ABC" rank card format.

The board approved a motion recognizing the administration's attempt to improve the ranking system at the K-6 level, and requested Superintendent Basil Kinney to report at the second regular board meeting in December the success or failure of the parent/teacher conference method.

The board approved and confirmed the issuance of a note dated Nov. 8, 1973, for operating expenses in the amount of $70,000 to the Casco Bank and Trust Co. at an interest rate of 3 1/2%.

The superintendent was authorized to complete all acts necessary to transfer title of the West Bethel School property from S. A. D. 44 to the town of Bethel. Once used by the district for storage following its utilization for classes the building has seen little use in recent years.

It was the decision of the board that all vacancies in non-certified positions should be advertised in a newspaper having general circulation in the S. A. D. 44 area. Hiring would be in conformity with the Maine Statutes regarding the election of staff members with a term appointment being made on a non-avoidable interim basis.

The Ad Hoc Committee for the Telstar Regional Planning S. A. D. 44, organized by Superintendent Basil Kinney, met on Monday, Nov. 19, at the Telstar Regional High School. The members of the Ad Hoc Committee to be appointed by the Telstar Regional Board of Directors are: Patricia Hudson, Telstar Regional High School; Mary Jane Gaudreau, Bethel School; Michael Gilbert, Newry, Virginia; and Barbara Perre, Woodstock. Barbara Perre is the member of the Ad Hoc Committee to be appointed by the Telstar Regional Board of Directors.

AD HOC COMMITTEE TO HOLD FIRST MEETING AT TELSTAR MONDAY

The initial meeting of the Ad Hoc Committee studying the Educational Needs of S. A. D. 44, will be held in the Lecture Hall at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening, Nov. 26, at 7:30, with Mrs. Patricia Hudson serving as interim chairman.

The committee will at that time review its charge from the S. A. D. 44 Board of Directors and will make arrangements to set up a sub-committee to update and expand the school portion of the Bethel Planning Board Report of 1967, and will set up a sub-committee to review the Englehardt, Englehardt & Leggett report of December 1965. It will consider ways to develop the educational requirements of K-6 and consider means and methods to fill the complement of the committee, and make recommendations to the Chairman of the Board of Directors regarding the appointment of a permanent Chairman and establish a schedule of meetings to complete its work by March 4, 1974.

FOOTBALL FILMS AT TELSTAR NEXT TUESDAY EVENING

Parents of Telstar football players and all other interested persons are invited to attend a showing of football films at the Lecture Hall, Telstar Regional High School, next Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, at 7:30.

Plans are in progress for an awards banquet to honor the Telstar football team, 1973 MVC champions. Commemorative items will be placed in area lockers so that any who wish may contribute. Donations may also be sent to Telstar Regional High School, attention of Brian Flynn. One event to raise funds has already been scheduled, a dance at the Locke Mills Legion Hall on Dec. 8.

Also serving on the committee are two board members: Patricia Hudson and John Anderson, both of Bethel. Sup. Basil Kinney will act as secretary of the committee, and Edward Flynn (CPS principal) as chairman of S. A. D. 44. S. A. D. 44 is also a member. Serving on the panel on building representation from the district's schools are: Betty Invallee, Telstar; Mary Jane Gaudreau, Bethel; Mary Jane Gaudreau, Bethel; Robert School; Michael Gilbert, Newry, Virginia; and Barbara Perre, Woodstock. Barbara Perre is the member of the Ad Hoc Committee to be appointed by the Telstar Regional Board of Directors.

The board approved and adopted a board policy concerning "Public Relations." This policy is a statement of intent by the board to make the public aware of all policies, programs, problems, and planning of the school system and to invite the public to share in the district's educational efforts.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENDORSES NON-LIGHTED CHRISTMAS DISPLAY POLICY

Due to the present energy crisis which faces us this winter the Bethel Chamber of Commerce decided at its meeting Nov. 15 to suspend plans for Christmas lighting this year. In past years the Chamber has provided strings of lights to area businesses and encouraged displays. In place of the lighting, the Chamber is calling on businesses and private individuals alike to decorate with non-illuminated displays which will express the joy of the holiday season without wasting the energy which seems more precious each day.

SUNDAY RIVER SKI AREA OPENED FOR SEASON ON MONDAY, NOV. 19

Sunday River Ski Area opened for the season Monday, Nov. 19, with skiing on man-made snow on the Mixing Bowl Area.

This wide, 1.2 mile long novice slope has a substantial base of man-made snow and is serviced by a 2600 ft. T-bar lift, which is operating daily.

A completely re-engineered and expanded snowmaking system on this popular Mixing Bowl slope has allowed Sunday River to provide skiers with its earliest opening ever.

Sunday River features a mile-long double chair, three T-bar lifts, a 1500 ft. vertical drop and 14 trails and slopes up to three miles in length.

Sunday River officials have also announced a series of changes and improvements that include doubling of the cafeteria and base lodge, expanded snow grooming and snow making, a new novice trail, and improved parking and access road.

Skiers will be pleased to find that lift ticket prices have remained unchanged at Sunday River, with week end and midweek package plans expanded to cover holiday periods.

A motion that would authorize the utilization of an unused bus as a shelter for the outdoor student smoking area at Telstar was defeated by the board.

The board approved in its second meeting and adopted a board policy concerning "Public Relations." This policy is a statement of intent by the board to make the public aware of all policies, programs, problems, and planning of the school system and to invite the public to share in the district's educational efforts.

NORTHWEST BETHEL

Mrs. Louise B. Chapman, Corres.

I have just about enough time to say "hello" and wish everyone a happy Thanksgiving. These last few days before the big day are hectic with many preparations. There are last minute trips to the store for all the extras associated with the holidays. Everyday is used for cooking one of the special once a year dishes. A very special day is being planned for very special people. A question arises concerning the size of the turkey, is it going to be big enough for all that are coming? Somehow everything always turns out right. For some, Thanksgiving is a time of reunion, or maybe even seeing a new member of the family for the first time. For some, it will be a renewal of old acquaintances, and for all it will be a time of togetherness.

Not too much to report this week. Everyone is enjoying the good weather, although some are anxious for the first snowfall so that the snowmobiles can be brought out and enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith spent some time during the week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith and family.

Mary Chapman has returned from Lawrence, Mass., where she spent last week with her sister, Betty Grenier and family.

Mr. Lapham has been busy getting his wood supply for the winter.

The Gibson boys, Frank and George, are in Florida now for the winter employment.

Mrs. Alan Chapman, Sarah and Allison, and Mary Chapman, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Billings, North Woodstock, for awhile Sunday afternoon.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

In the woods of grey November silent and austere Nature gives her benediction to the passing year.

Patience Strong

This morning the sun enchanted
our valley with a amethyst horizon.
There was a drifting mist like smoking incense hanging upon the air.
The trees stood stripped and bare making arches where they interlaced.

"The door of autumn
Gold on one side,
Silver on the other
Let us pass through softly."

The silent woods are lovely on these November days. Even though I haven't traveled them, I have been to the open fields garbed in my Red Riding Hood suit and gazed longingly at the massive beech, majestic oaks and slim white birches.

Thoreau would say, "The woods, divested in great part of their leaves are being ventilated."
As Fay and I went to the top of the farm fields, the landscape looked clean, pure and dry. The air was like pure glass laid on a framed picture. Beneath our feet the land was still clothed in green and looked as if it had just been swept.
There was ice on the pond but a balmy air was in place of yesterday's cold.

This time of year is the beginning of the tough, iron edge of the year.
It is also Thanksgiving time again.
So may I share with you from my treasure book this piece whose author is unknown and is entitled . . .
A Boy's Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving comes on Thursday
by the President's decree. But Friday, good old Friday is Thanksgiving Day for me. There's lots to eat on Thursday, just heaps and piles of stuff, but Mother always worries for fear there's not enough so many folks for dinner, she's sure that some will starve and whispers to my father, "Be careful how you carve," and as for me, she warns me, "I've heard it all before, 'No matter what we pass you don't ask for any more.'"

But Friday, one day after, she doesn't feel that way. I've heard it all so often, I know she's going to say, "Whoever would have guessed to see those people eat, that on the turkey's carcass there be a diced of meat? I thought before they finished we should have to cook its meat, but there's quite a lot left over. Come, Willie, pass your plate."
Thanksgiving may be Thursday by the President's decree, but Friday,
oh, boy, Friday, is Thanksgiving Day for me.

And it isn't only turkey for there's cups and fruit and pie, and no one counting noses with a watchful water eye. There's joy in every (I bet a surprise on every shelf, and only warnings if I go and help myself. There's candy in a box on chairs, and in the shed a jug with just enough of apple juice to make a go-kor-chung! Thanksgiving may be Thursday, if you're eating on a

Letters to the Editor
 Nov. 20, 1973

To the Editor:
 It was gratifying to see the number of parents present at Monday night's S. A. D. 44 Board of Directors meeting; and it was worthwhile to hear opinions of both sides of the question of changing from the rank card system to parent-teacher conferences.

However, the lack of interest shown by parents and taxpayers in the Ad Hoc committee is discouraging. This committee was activated by the Board at Monday night's meeting, but the positions for citizens on the committee are not completely filled. There are five vacancies for Andover, two for Bethel, four for Norway, four for Woodstock and none for Greenwood. Representation of teachers and staff from each of the area schools is complete.

Briefly, the general purposes of the committee are to study and evaluate the educational program and facilities as they now exist, to determine if the present program at Telstar is adequate and if such a program should be developed at the K-6 level, and to recommend to the Board what if any capital improvements are needed in the next five years. An essential part of the study will be to determine if new elementary schools are needed in the district and, if so, where.

Representation of all sides of the question is needed. Anyone who would be interested in helping with this study should attend the first meeting at the Telstar Lecture Room which is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p. m. Sincerely,
 Patricia Hubson

Dear Editor:
 How much does it cost, in terms of energy consumed, to cover a mountain with MAN MADE snow just as a lot of affluent kids can go out and mow around in it?
 We are ordered by government to turn our thermostats down to 63°, drive our cars at 55 m. p. h., and turn off all lighting and electrical appliances that are not absolutely necessary; yet there seems to be plenty of energy to keep all our little playgrounds running.

Monday, I got the impression we were supposed to be conserving energy but throwing it away on a lot of nonsense. Apparently at least one of our local kids hasn't got the message.
 In all fairness to the rest of us, these winter recreational areas should be immediately limited, by law if necessary, to week end and holiday operation only. They should not be allowed, under any circumstances, to waste valuable energy on MAN MADE snow.

We generally get plenty of snow in this country without any help from man. Besides, we all know "IT'S NOT NICE TO FOOL MOTHER NATURE!"
 Conservatively yours,
 D. R. James

er with a handkerchief, then they all joined in the last dance. This was a formal old-time German dance, called the Grosvater, or "Grandfather Dance" and after it, the party ended.
 Soon, however, Klara, who had not been able to sleep, thinking of her nutcracker, came back into the living room. She was just a little bit afraid of the dark, but when she took and cuddled her nutcracker in the big easy chair, she soon fell asleep.

At her side appeared the Nutcracker! He took her by the hand and led her out of the living room and through the snowy forest where she meets such enchanting people as the Snow Queen, the Sugar Plum Fairy, and the living "Goodies" from the Kingdom of Sweets.

NEWRY SCHOOL'S PROGRAM VIEWED AT OPEN HOUSE
 Nearly all parents of the grade six students were in attendance at the first Raymond C. Foster School open house held Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, as teachers Miss Helen Varner and Michael Gilbert, described for them the new individual educational system now in use.

The unique system has been used in Andover successfully for two years and is unlike other individual training programs. Each child is given a test in each subject he will study. He is then assigned a book for his level learning capability. Tests are given intermittently to determine whether his level should be lowered or if he should work on a higher level. No rank cards of A-B-C are used, but a file is kept on each child showing his level of learning in each subject. The children are not all working from the same book or given the same test.

Teachers believe the child can find the answers by learning how to and where to look for them. A problem can be solved by knowing where to look with guidance given. Tapes with earphones help them in this capacity. In one study, a coded system is used which tells them which tape to listen to for their answers. They feel that learning to listen is important.

Teachers provide interest by reading aloud. If deep interest is shown, they go into the subject much more without a time limit. One such study on fossils, which was a three-day lesson, extended into a five-week course before all the students questions were brought up and answers found by them.

There is one class only which brings the 59 students together. It is an opportunity to "unwind or let down" while the teacher reads or picks an interesting topic for discussion.

The students are bussed to the two-room school from the Crescent Park School in Bethel. Because of the lack of kitchen facilities, hot lunches are brought from Telstar Regional High School, nine miles away, in plastic disposable containers.

GAS RATIONING: PLUS OR MINUS?
 by Walt Cherry
 For more than thirty years, we, and people of other industrial nations, have been traveling on a collision course, with full speed ahead, toward utter depletion of readily available and usable sources of energy. The current crisis has compelled us to focus our attention on this inevitability. Unfortunately, little or nothing has been done to change direction, probably because it would be political suicide to articulate the grave portent of the crisis, or to suggest adequate steps toward averting the collision before scientists have had time to develop other sources of energy.

There is no need to panic, but there is an immediate need to alter our course. We must change our direction to one of careful conservation. This will probably force a change in our standard of living. How much it will be diminished will depend on the talents of economic and political experts dealing with realities. There is still time to stabilize at an acceptable level.

If we are bent of the same stuff as were our forebears, the adjustment won't be as difficult as one might suppose. Furthermore, there might be some real benefits to be realized by a quantitative change in our life styles.

Available space limits the number of examples we might consider, but we may whet our appetites with a few possibilities: Attention of individuals from their families, friends and communities will be much less because an interdependent among people will develop as our pride in self-sufficiency wanes. Needs will arise and give incentive to constructive activities where heretofore, we have had more material things than we needed, and many of our youth have spent their time and energy in destructive activities or plain idleness. Family life, probably one of the most precious and real aspects of living, may be reestablished as needs give reason and birth to common efforts toward common goals. The same mutuality of need may serve to restore pride in the community—pride that has been so long lacking. We will not return to bare necessities, but community spirit is bound to heighten.

Not last nor least is the possibility that an "across-the-board" change in our mode of living will make less prominent the lines of demarcation between classes, particularly that presently unbridgeable gap between the poor and the middle class. There will always be poor people in a free society. But the gap will be narrower and the frustrations of the poor of tomorrow will be much less than they are today. It is certain to have a quieting effect on the violent trends in the ghettos among the disadvantaged.

Our indulgences during the last three decades have made us fat in mind and body, and there is evidence that our moral fiber has been stretched thin. How remarkable it would be if the negative force of the current crisis becomes the positive means to restore our sanity, health, and love for one another!

your week ahead BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: November 25 to December 2, 1973

- ARIES
Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
Seems as though you will be firing up an old engine. Chances are, you'll restart a project that has been pushed aside for some time.
- TAURUS
Apr. 20 - May 20
This week might find you stomping about in a cloud of emotion. So, face cold facts concerning the opposite sex and finances.
- GEMINI
May 21 - June 20
It's been a long time coming; suddenly it's here. This week, you must resolve the conflict between your public and private life.
- MOONCHILD
June 21 - July 22
Hold your ground, Moonchild. Many members of your sign face an "or else" ultimatum. What to do? Take the "or else." You can't lose this week.
- LEO
July 23 - Aug. 22
There's something questionable about your relationship with persons in authority. Stellar patterns suggest that you shore up connections with routine associates.
- VIRGO
Aug. 23 - Sept. 22
Somewhere, somehow there is a leak in your budget. Look into it, Virgo! Also, a minor repair, if neglected, will parlay into a major reversal.
- LIBRA
Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
Don't disclose your long range plans; don't rely on help from friends. Do, however, improve your differences with the opposite sex.
- SCORPIO
Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
A postponement, that you might consider as discouraging, will work out to your advantage - in the long haul. Good fortune will take a strange avenue!
- SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 - Dec. 21
Consider a change of plans. What you now have in mind is not the best thing to do. You are approaching a crossroad, in affairs of the heart.
- CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 - Jan. 19
Someone in authority will show enthusiasm toward your job, project or mission. It's extremely important that you follow through, however. Don't rest on your laurels.
- AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
In the most innocent fashion, you might betray a friend. How? By discussing their domestic problems at large. Keep what you are told in confidence.
- PISCES
Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
Time saving devices and cutting corners . . . won't be your thing. Struggle along with some routine. Unless you take care, this could be an error prone cycle.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

The next Pack Meeting will be Monday, Nov. 26, at 7:00. Due to the growing size of the Pack, we have been forced to find a larger meeting site. Reverend Caton has extended to us the use of the Congregational Church—consequently, we will meet in the basement of that building for all our up-coming Pack Meetings. The Cub Scout Committee extends its sincere appreciation to the Directors of the Methodist Church for the past usage of their facilities—it was greatly appreciated.

Monday's meeting will include the judging of the "Genius Kits" that were assembled by the Cubs; discussion of the up-coming light bulb sale; plans for a trip to the Southworth Planetarium; and renewal of the charter. This last item consists of collecting dues for 1974. Annual dues are $1.00. If boys want BOYS LIFE magazine then they will pay an extra $2.50 (half rate) for their subscription.

There will be NO December Pack Meeting.

PERFECT BALANCE . . . Cella A. Dellavalle, of Portland, Me., a student teacher in Brunswick, was on her way to work when a car she was attempting to pass swerved into the passing lane. "It happened so fast, I don't know what happened," she said. The car ended up perfectly balanced on top of the protective barrier between lanes of I-295. The car traveled 100 ft. along the top of the barrier before coming to rest.

TROUT TUNE . . . It's a long way from the first tee for angler Bing Crosby, shown here with "Field and Stream" editor Jack Samson while fishing on Eva Lake, Alaska. Crosby snared this four-pound Dolly Varden trout while crooning a chilled chorus of "Hello Dolly." Says Samson of Crosby's vocal fly fishing habits: "He sings a good line."

8 REMEMBERS BY THE OLD TIMER

From D. B. Satterfield, Trenton, N.J.: I remember going to school in a log schoolhouse in Bath County, Kentucky in the early 1900's. It was known as the Chestnut Grove School.

I also remember the 1910 visit of Halley's comet. Before the comet became visible, newspapers and magazines were making dire predictions of possible calamity, since astronomers warned that the comet would enter the plane of the earth's orbit in its passage around the sun. Some predicted that the tail would probably envelop the earth, others thought the earth might collide with the head of the comet. Wherever people gathered it was a ready subject of conversation. The first appearance of Halley was in the east before dawn. It was an innocent looking object with a short tail that pointed upward. On May 18 the comet passed through the plane of the earth's orbit and on the 21st the comet's tail grazed the earth. Nothing happened, except that I noticed an eerie change in the brilliant blue of the Kentucky sky.

UPTON

Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corras.

Rev. Thomas Cullen of Bethel preached the funeral service for Howard Douglass, Saturday afternoon. Friends and relatives filled the church to pay their last respects to Howard who has been a life-long resident of Upton. Sympathy is extended to his wife, Elsie, and their children, all of whom are well-known and loved here.

Roger Lavalley is visiting his father for awhile.

Clayton Thompson is spending a vacation with his father. He wants to get in some hunting if it looks worthwhile.

Six deer have been tagged at Judkins' Market to date.

Ray Haley is staying at his camp for a hunting vacation.

There is a very light snow on the ground and snowmobiles were active over the week end.

A few years ago I became very interested in water dowsing and was learning this activity went far beyond finding a supply of drinking water with a stick. A friend pointed out that this was among the abominations to the Lord. I gave her the arguments about its harmlessness and possible helpfulness and she pointed out some Bible verses and other material and let me hash it out for myself. I'll admit it was with some reluctance at first that I gave it up, but as time goes on I realize more fully the danger I was courting. I see so much material on astrology in almost every publication that I wonder whether people are aware that this is also a satanic activity and that anyone who professes Christianity or belief in God, is, perhaps, in greater danger by participation in occult practices—even reading horoscopes.

Frank Spinney called on his sister, Elsie Fuller, Monday.

Bernie Graves is doing some of the fall work on the town roads.
